

You are viewing one of thousands of biographies – click below for more, including Search box and access to Plant associated organisations.

Plant Biographies

Bibliography

Bupleurum baldense

[Synonyms : Bupleurum aristatum, Bupleurum opacum]

SMALL HARE'S-EAR is an annual. Native to Europe (including Britain where it is now rare) it has minute, yellow flowers.

This plant is a protected species in the wild in Britain under the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981.

Baldense means 'of or from Monte Baldo, east of Lake Garda in northern Italy'.