

You are viewing one of thousands of biographies – click below for more, including Search box and access to Plant associated organisations.

Plant Biographies

Bibliography

Carum verticillatum

WHORLED CARAWAY is an annual or biennial. Native to western Europe (including Britain) it has tiny white flowers that are minutely and conspicuously pink-dotted. It is also known as Carwas Troellog (Welsh). Verticillatum means 'whorled (round an axis)'.