

You are viewing one of thousands of biographies – click below for more, including Search box and access to Plant associated organisations.

Plant Biographies

Bibliography

Cedronella

Labiatae
[Lamiaceae]

Cedronella is derived from Greek kedros (cedar).

The 1st Century natural historian Pliny the Elder (23-79) called it ‘cedar’ because its fragrance according to some authorities is similar.