

You are viewing one of thousands of biographies – click below for more, including Search box and access to Plant associated organisations.

Plant Biographies

Bibliography

Cynoglossum morrisoni

[Synonyms : Cynoglossum morisonii, Cynoglossum morrisonii, Echinosperrum virginicum,
Lappula virginiana]

VIRGINIA MOUSE-EAR is an annual. Found in North America it has tiny, white or pale blue flowers.

It is also known as Beggar lice, and Virginia stickseed.

Morrisonii commemorates an American botanist, John Lawrence Morrison (1911-2001) who from 1959 was professor of botany at the State University of New York College of Environmental Science and Forestry and specialised in Thuya occidentalis, the Streptanthus genus and the Brassicaceae family.