

You are viewing one of thousands of biographies – click below for more, including Search box and access to Plant associated organisations.

Plant Biographies

Bibliography

---

Elaeagnus philippensis

LINGARO is an evergreen shrub. Native to the Philippines it has silvery-scaled, dull pink berries.

It is also known as Elaeagnus.

Philippensis means 'of or from the Philippines'.

Locally the cherry-tasting fruit are harvested to make preserves.

The shrub is sometimes cultivated as an ornamental plant.