

You are viewing one of thousands of biographies – click below for more, including Search box and access to Plant associated organisations.

Plant Biographies

Bibliography

Fucus helminthocorton

CORSICAN MOSS is a seaweed. Native to the Mediterranean (particularly around Corsica) and to the north Atlantic, it has tangled tufts of white to brown threads. Medicinally, its properties are said to be successful in treating intestinal worms.