

You are viewing one of thousands of biographies – click below for more, including Search box and access to Plant associated organisations.

Plant Biographies

Bibliography

Lantana montevidensis

[Synonyms : Camara montevidensis, Lantana delicatissima, Lantana sellowiana, Lippia montevidensis]

TRAILING LANTANA is a semi-trailing evergreen shrub. Native to Peru it has small, yellow-eyed, pale purple or rose-lilac flowers.

It is also known as Polecat geranium, Tahi ayam (Malay), Trailing shrub verbena, and Weeping lantana.

Warning – trailing lantana is believed to be as poisonous as lantana (Lantana camara). Montevidensis means ‘of or from Montevideo (Uruguay)’.