

You are viewing one of thousands of biographies – click below for more, including Search box and access to Plant associated organisations.

Plant Biographies

Bibliography

Passiflora platyloba

MONTESA GRANADILLA is a climbing vine. It has drooping, very fragrant, purple and white flowers.

It is also known as Acid granadilla, Platyloba passionflower, and Platyloba passion vine.

Platyloba is derived from Greek platy- (wide) and lobo- (lobe) components meaning ‘broad lobed’.