

You are viewing one of thousands of biographies – click below for more, including Search box and access to Plant associated organisations.

Plant Biographies

Bibliography

Phlox nana

[Synonyms : Phlox mesoleuca]

SANTA FE PHLOX is a semi-evergreen perennial. Native to south-western United States it has small, white-centred, purple to pale pink (rarely yellow) flowers.

It is also known as Canyon phlox, and White-eyed phlox.

Nana is derived from Latin nanus (dwarf) meaning ‘dwarf or small’.