Polymnia

Compositae

[Asteraceae]

Polymnia honours Polyhymnia (or Polymnia or She of Many or Sacred Hymns) the youngest of the seven Greek Muses of classical mythology. She was the Muse of song or sacred hymn, poetry, oratory and eloquence, as well as sometimes mime, dance, meditation, agriculture or geometry. Invariably she is shown pensive or meditating, with a finger to her mouth, or occasionally veiled.
