

You are viewing one of thousands of biographies – click below for more, including Search box and access to Plant associated organisations.

Plant Biographies

Bibliography

Polypodium interjectum

[Synonyms : Polypodium vulgare subsp. prionodes]

INTERMEDIATE POLYPODY is a semi-evergreen fern. Native to western Europe it has green fronds.

It is also known as Clach-raineach Mheadhanach (Scots Gaelic), Dansk stensöta (Swedish), Oladič přehlížený (Czech), Sadič (Slovak), Storbladet Engelsød (Danish), and Western polypody.

Interjectum is derived from Latin intericio (between, among) meaning ‘in between, intermediate in form’.

Intermediate polypody is a parent of several ornamental ferns.