

You are viewing one of thousands of biographies – click below for more, including Search box and access to Plant associated organisations.

Plant Biographies

Bibliography

Potentilla anglica

[Synonyms : Potentilla procumbens]

TRAILING TORMENTIL is a trailing perennial. Native to western Europe it has tiny, brown-blotched based, yellow to apricot-coloured flowers with many stamens.

It is also known as Cairt Làir Ealaidheach (Scots Gaelic), Creeping cinquefoil, Englisches Fingerkraut (German), English cinquefoil, Lännehanhikki (Finnish), Mochna anglická (Czech), Nátržník (Slovak), Procumbent cinquefoil, Revblodrot (Swedish), Revig blodrot (Swedish), and Tresgl Ymlusgol (Welsh).

Anglica means ‘of or from England’.