Pyracantha coccinea lalandei

BRIGHT ORANGE BERRIES is a variety of evergreen shrub. Developed in France it has small, bright orange fruit.

It is also known as Firethorn, Laland pyracantha, Scarlet firethorn, and Yellow berry pyracantha.

Coccinea means ‘scarlet’ as a description of the fruit. Lalandei commemorates a French nurseryman, Monsieur Lalande, who developed this variety of the species in about 1874 in his nursery in Nantes.

It is cultivated as an ornamental, especially as a screen.
